Every day, children interact with animals—at home, in parks, or even on the way to school. But not every child knows how to safely approach or care for a pet... and that can lead to misunderstandings or even injuries.

That's why we created PetCuesGame—a fun, interactive learning game that teaches kids how to safely and kindly interact with animals.

Through real-life scenarios, like meeting a stray dog or playing with a family pet, kids learn to read animal body language, ask for permission, and make smart, safe choices.

With animated pets, friendly feedback, and fun quizzes, kids stay engaged while building real-world skills in empathy, responsibility, and safety.

PetCuesGame is web-based, accessible on any device, and perfect for schools, humane societies, and families alike. No downloads, no fancy tech—just safe, smart learning for all.

Join us in building a safer, kinder world for kids and animals—one game at a time.

Thank you
